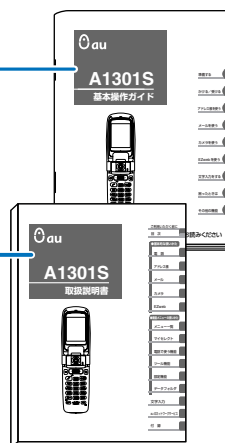
Welcome

Thank you for buying the A1301S.
Before using your A1301S, be sure to read the A1301S Manual and Basic Manual (PDF manuals) to ensure correct use of your A1301S. After you have finished reading these manuals, store them and the printed manuals in a safe place so you can retrieve them whenever you need them.

Printed manuals for A1301S (Japanese)

The A1301S comes with the Basic Manual and the Manual.

If you want to know about basic operations:
A1301S Basic Manual
Equivalent to this English PDF Basic Manual.

If you want to know details about various functions:
A1301S Manual
Equivalent to the English PDF Manual.


In some of the displays used for descriptions in this manual, the icon display area at the top of the display and the soft key option display area at the bottom of the display may be omitted to simplify descriptions. Also, the typeface and shape of fonts used in displays may differ from those used in actual displays or may be omitted.

Cellphone etiquette

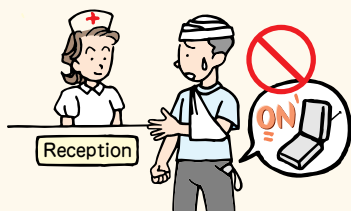
■ Weak radio waves are emitted from cellphones at all times even if you just turn the power on.

■ Enjoy and safely use your cellphone without forgetting those around you.

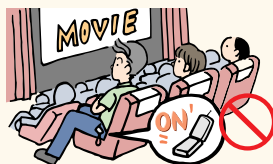
● Use of cellphones is not allowed in some places.

- Do not use cellphones while you are driving. Doing so is both dangerous and forbidden by law.
- Radio waves may interfere with airplane operation. Be sure to turn your cellphone off before you board airplanes.

● Radio waves from cellphones may adversely influence medical apparatus and equipment.

- Some people close to you in busy places such as crowded trains may be using a pacemaker. Turn your cellphone off in such places.
- Abide by the instructions of hospitals and other medical institutions where it is forbidden to use or carry cellphones.


● Consider where to use your cellphone and be careful of how loudly you talk.

- Do not make calls from cinemas, theaters, museums, libraries and other similar places. Turn your cellphone off or set it to the manner mode to prevent others around you from being inconvenienced by the incoming ring.


- Use your cellphone in places where you will not prevent others from passing through.
- Move to areas where you will not cause others inconvenience on trains or in hotel lobbies.
- Take care not to talk too loudly during conversations.

- Get other people's permission before you start taking photos with the cellphone's camera.

Before Use

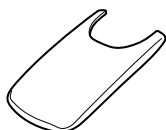
Checking the package

The package contains the main unit and accessories.

- Main unit

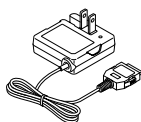
- Battery pack (inside the main unit)

- Front ornamental panel (3 pieces*)

* One of them is already attached to the main unit.


- Rear ornamental panel (2 pieces*)

* One of them is already attached to the main unit.

- AC adaptor


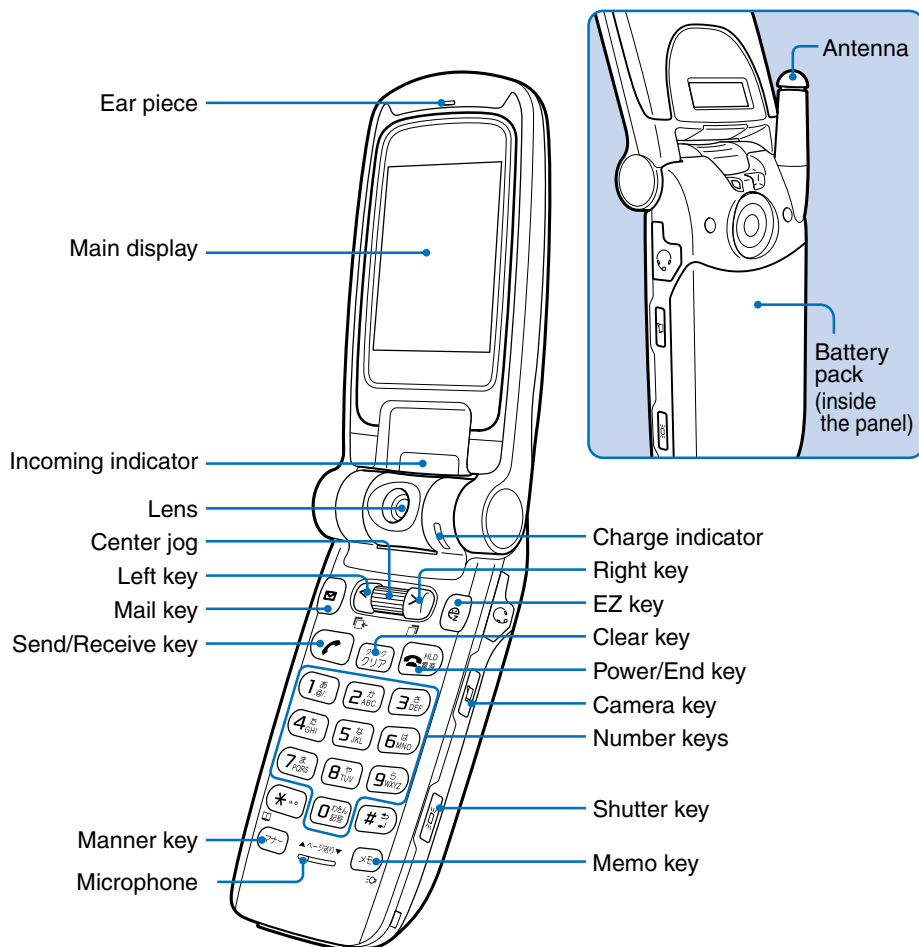
- Desktop holder

(For details on how to assemble the desktop holder, see page 12.)

- Basic Manual (Japanese)

- Manual (Japanese)

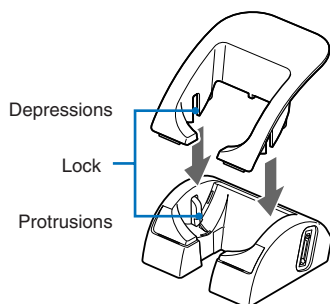
- Warranty (Japanese)
- Safety precautions (Japanese)

Names of parts


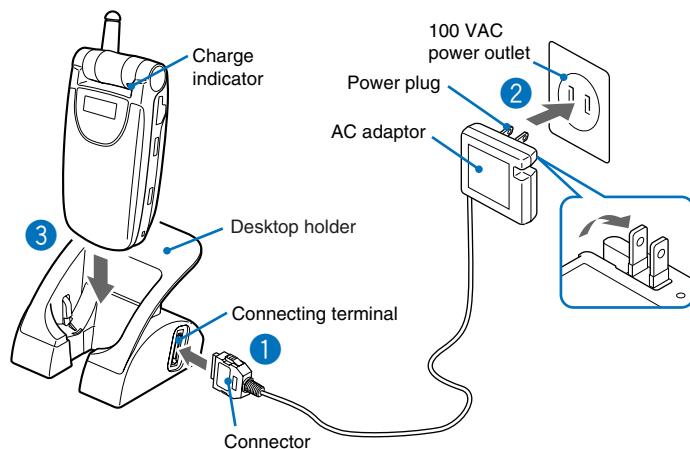
Charging the battery pack

Before you use your cellphone, first assemble the desktop holder and charge the battery pack (inside the battery panel).

How to assemble the desktop holder

Follow the procedure below to assemble the desktop holder when using it for the first time.


Align the locking section (protrusions and depressions), and insert until you hear the desktop holder click into place.

Charging the battery pack


- The charge indicator lights red: The battery pack is being charged.
- The charge indicator lights green: Charging is complete.

1. Connect the AC adaptor to the desktop holder.

2. Connect the AC adaptor's power plug to a 100 VAC power outlet.

3. Fold the A1301S with the battery pack attached as shown in the figure, then insert it into the desktop holder.

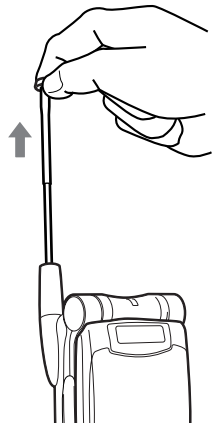
Be sure to fold the A1301S when you charge it. Charging will not start if the A1301S is opened out.

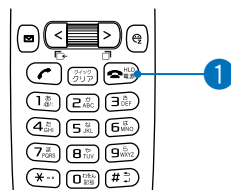
When removing the A1301S from the desktop holder, hold the desktop holder firmly and remove the A1301S.

Extending the antenna

Hold the tip of the antenna, and extend the antenna until you hear it click into place.

If the antenna is not fully extended, reception sensitivity will be worse as the antenna is unstable.
Radio waves can be received and sent more easily if the antenna is extended vertically to the ground.


Turning the power on

The standby display appears when you turn the A1301S on.
You can operate the A1301S functions, e.g. phone and mail, from the standby display. To return to the standby display, press the power key.


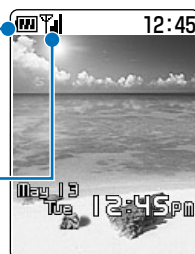
Hold down [HLD 電源] for at least one second.

➡ When the power is turned on, the standby display appears.

Check the remaining battery power.

Full	Medium	Low	No power left

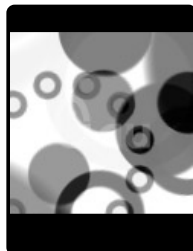
Check the reception state.

Strong	Medium	Weak	Very weak	Out of service area (圏外)


- You cannot receive or make calls if "圏外" (Out of service area) is displayed.
- Sometimes you cannot receive or make calls if "Ｔ" (Very weak) is displayed.

Turning the power off

Hold down [HLD 電源] for at least 1.5 seconds.

 To receive calls, leave the power on.


Before using the English display

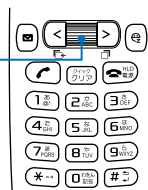
①Press [jog press] in the standby display, and use [jog turn] and [jog press] to select [icon] (設定) → "画面設定."

②Use [jog turn] and [jog press] to select "Set Language" → "English."

Learning the Basics

Basic operations

Start with how to use [jog press] and [jog turn].

[jog press]	Press the center jog.
[jog turn]	Turn the center jog up or down.


To use the Index menu

You can operate the Index menu by using [jog press] and [jog turn]. Each of the A1301S functions can be called up from the Index menu.

Press [jog press] in the standby display.

Press the center jog with the cellphone turned on.

➡The Index menu appears.

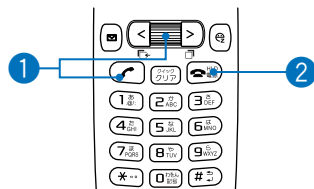
3 Turn [dial] to select the call method, and press [select key] (select).

Wait a short while until you hear the call tone.

4 When you have finished the call, press [HLD key].

Receiving a call

When you have an incoming call, the incoming ring sounds and the incoming indicator flashes.


Press [call key] or [call] (call) to answer the call.

When a phone number is displayed:

The other party has set Notify user ID to ON. If the other party's name is already saved in the address book, that person's name will also be displayed

When "User unset" is displayed:

The other party has set Notify user ID to OFF.

When "Pay phone" is displayed:

You have received a call from a pay phone.

When "Not support" is displayed:

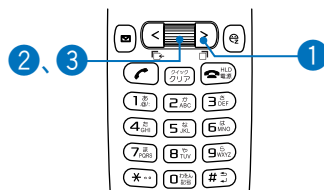
You have received a call from a party that is not able to notify you of their phone number.

When you have finished the call, press [HLD key].

Display if you could not answer a call

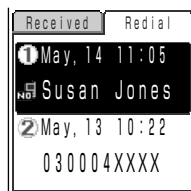
If you could not answer a call, you are notified that you had a call on the display. If you press [call], you can confirm the phone number of the other party that called you and redial that party (see page 26).

Redialing the number you called (Redial)

You can call up a phone number you have previously dialed, and redial that number.
Your A1301S can record up to 30 phone numbers you have previously called.


Press ▷ in the standby display.

➡ The Redial display appears.

Phone numbers are displayed starting with the phone number you last called.


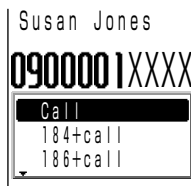
Turn [key] to select the phone number you want to call, and press [key] (call).

➡ The call method selection display appears.

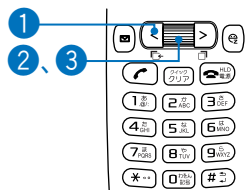
Turn [key] to select the call method, and press (select).

➡ The call is connected to the phone number you selected.

For details on call methods, see step 2 on page 22.

Making and Receiving Calls


Redialing the number you received (Received)

You can redial parties that have called you in the past and that have notified you of their phone number.
The Received display can hold the last 30 phone numbers you received in order from the most recent.


Press < in the standby display.

➡The Received display appears.

Turn [jog dial] to select the call method, and press (select).

➡The call is connected to the phone number you selected.

For details on call methods, see step 2 on page 22.

Filtering one-ring calls

What is a one-ring call?

A "one-ring call" is a call where the other party allows the call to ring only once, thus leaving his phone number in your Received call record. Such calls may be an invitation to you to return the call to connect to a service with very high charges, such as an encounter service.

One-ring call icon

When you have received a one-ring call, a red icon (for incoming calls of less than three seconds) is displayed in the Received call record. Pay attention to phone calls you receive if you do not recognize the caller's number.

Changing the volume of the incoming ring

You can adjust the volume of the tone (incoming ring) that sounds when you have an incoming call. Note, however, that if the manner mode is set, the volume of the incoming ring cannot be changed.

Press [key] in the standby display.

➡ The Index menu appears.

Turn [key] to select (Settings), and press [key] (select).

➡ The Settings menu appears.

Turn [key] to select "Ringer," and press [key] (select).

➡ The Ringer display appears.

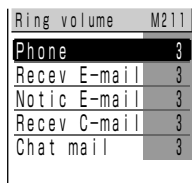
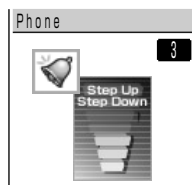
Turn [key] to select "Ring volume," and press (select).

➡ The Ring volume display appears.


Turn [jog] to select "Phone," and press (select).

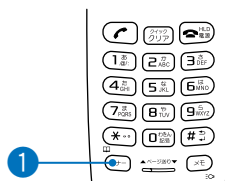
➡The Phone display appears and the incoming ring sounds.


Turn [jog] to adjust the volume, and press [jog] (ok).

"OFF":	The incoming ring does not sound.
"1" to "5":	The incoming ring sounds at the level you set.
"Step Down":	The incoming ring sounds increasingly quieter.
"Step Up":	The incoming ring sounds increasingly louder.

 "Step Down" and "Step Up" can be selected from five volume levels by turning [jog] upwards.

Setting the manner mode

When the manner mode is set, the incoming ring no longer sounds when you have an incoming call.
In this mode, the A1301S vibrates to notify you of incoming calls.


Hold down (マナー) for at least one second in the standby display.

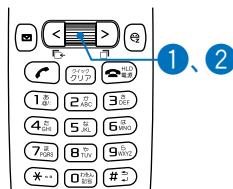
➡ "VS" appears.
The recorded message is set at the same time.

To cancel the manner mode

Hold down (マナー) for at least one second in the standby display.

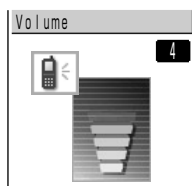
➡ The manner mode is canceled, and VS is not displayed.

Changing the volume during a call

You can adjust the volume of the other party's voice to any of five levels during a call.


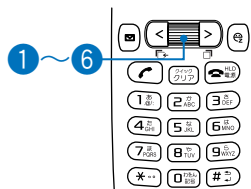
Turn [key] during the call.

[key]: Increases the volume

[key]: Decreases the volume


Press [key] (ok).

Changing the tone of the incoming ring

You can change the tone of the incoming ring when you have an incoming call.


1 Press [key] in the standby display.

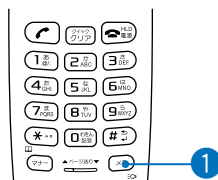
If you press [key] (stop) while the ring tone is being played, playback of the ring tone will be stopped.

Turn [jog dial] to select an incoming ring, and press (select).

➡ The incoming ring is set.

Recording the message when you cannot answer a call

You can automatically play answer messages and record messages from other parties when you cannot answer the phone. (record message)


Hold down (メモ) for at least one second in the standby display.

➡Record message is set, and appears.

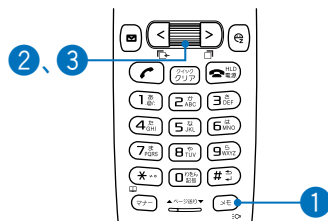
To cancel record message

Hold down (メモ) for at least one second in the standby display.

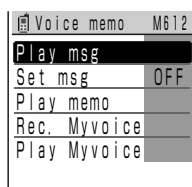
When you turn the power off or you are in a place where the reception is poor, use the "Voice mail."

For details, see "au Network Services" in the A1301S Manual (PDF, provided).

Playing back the recorded message

You can play back the recorded messages.


Press in the standby display.

➡ The Voice memo display appears.


2 Turn to select "Play msg," and press (select).
